MARISTANY HAS WOMEN MEET LOST HIS WIFE, AT UNITARIAN.

He Is Now Called Upon Political Equality Club to Pay All Her Bills.

ALAMEDA, April 14.—Joseph Maristany, the aged one-time capitalist, believes that his last wife, who was Mrs. Annette Freimann and known in the local clock business as "Mrs. Harbridge" until she became Mrs. Maristany on the 14th of November last, has departed, never to return. His motives for absence, furthermore, from the fact that before she left she incurred bills amounting to $5,000, which her husband has had to pay.

"I don't know where she is and I don't think she will ever return," said Maristany. "She has not written me since she left on March 10th to visit her former home in Marion, Indiana, but I have been informed that she wrote to a friend here that she would not return to this town as it was too slow and only fit for church and Sunday school people to live in. Her bills keep coming to me regularly, and the five months she has been running the clock business cost me $5,000. I closed the place up the day she left."

TELEGRAPH FOR GEN. WHITE ROYAL WELCOME

New Phase of Strike of the Southern Operators.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 14.—A bulletin issued by the striking operators of the Southern Railway today informs that more operators are joining the strikers every day.

The Southern Railway officials this morning state that the wires have been cut on the Memphis, Knoxville and Atlanta divisions of the Southern Railway, and that there is considerable interference with the operation of trains, especially on the Knoxville division. Linemen were sent out from this city, and one official is taking steps to arrest and prosecute persons who cut the wires or otherwise interfere with the traffic of the system.

The claim is made by representatives of the O. R. T. that the loss to the Southern Railway in perishable freight since the strike started amounts to $300,000.

RAILROADS CLAIM VICTORY.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 14.—Officials of the Southern Railway and Alabama Great Southern Railway state they are moving all trains out of the strike zone. While all the striking telegraphers' places have not been filled, sufficient operators have been secured to handle all trains, and the officials expect that in a few days all signs of a strike will have disappeared.

On the other hand the strikers claim that they are gaining strength daily and that many of the new men are deserting.

THEY WANT CITY CONTROL.

The birthday of Froebel, the originator of Kindergarten, will be celebrated by the Associated Kindergartens of this city, Tuesday, April 15, at 2 o'clock in the rooms of the Ebell Society, at the corner of Thirteenth and Harrison streets. Addresses will be given by Mrs. J. B. Brown, A. L. Denison, Dr. J. B. Brown, as regards the value of kindergarten training with relation to education. The purpose of the meeting is to do away with the numerous little charity organizations which are supporting Kindergarten in various parts of the city and to bring those several institutions under one management with the hope eventually of getting the city to take charge of them.

TURK AND GREEK WILL CONTEST.

The most notable wrestling match which has ever taken place in this city will be an attraction at the Oakland Athletic Club tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the terminus of the Piedmont electric railway. It is a contest between a Greek, Photes Vrettos, who is known here as a giant who tips the scales at 330 pounds and possessed of a perfect figure and an American, who is known as the Sultan's Lion, stands 6 feet 2 inches in height and weighs 252 pounds. In P. Vrettos, his opponent, the Turk will be a hardy and experienced wrestler. Vrettos some time ago defeated Henri Perki, weight 252 pounds, quite handsomely, and he will be a hardy and experienced wrestler. It is said that he has improved considerably in science since his match with Perki.

BILL BOARD MEN BROKE CONTRACT.

J. Pantoskey today filed suit in Judge Quinn's court against L. D. Owens, Thos. H. B. Varney, George H. Siebe, and J. Charles Green, proprietor of the California Posting and Sign Company, for an alleged violation of a contract.

The complaint recites that on January 24, Pantoskey entered into a contract with the defendants to place signs on the buildings in the city of Alameda, known as the free market for advertising purposes. The consideration named in the contract was $1,000, and the defendants were to have one double ticket to the Macdonough theater every week for the rent of the premises.

When "Pudd'nhead Wilson" was at the Macdonough during the week of April 2-7, Pantoskey claims that the defendants entered into a contract according to which the California Posting Company was to have the exclusive right to use the building on a monthly basis. Besides this Pantoskey was to have one double ticket to the Macdonough theater every week for the rent of the premises.

THE PASSOVER IN THE SYNAGOGUES.

The Passover, the sacred festival of the Jews, kept in commemoration of the deliverance of the children of Israel from Egyptian thralldom, began at sundown yesterday. The Passover feast, or "Ochagha Afritas," as it is termed in Hebrew, is of great import to adherents of the ancient faith.

The seder is the principal feature of the feast which was held last evening after the services in the temples. These services were given by Rabbi A. L. Denison, who presided at the table. The seder was a most interesting affair, and many invited guests as can be accommodated, gathered about the family table and partook of the ceremonial feast of the Passover.

Services were held in Synagogues of the First Hebrew congregation and Beth Jacob this morning and there will be other services this evening.

CZAR TO GO DOWN ENGLAND.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

THE DEMOCRATS WELCOME DEWEY.

As a Party Worker But Not as Presidential Candidate.

CHICAGO, April 14.—Bryan Democrats have decided to welcome Admiral Dewey into the Democratic party. Such is the position officially outlined in today's issue of the Democratic press bulletin.

"We may accept the Admiral's declaration of his political faith as indicating that he is with the Democratic party at least on an overwhelming majority of the issues it has taken up," runs the article, which is from the pen of Willis J. Abbott, head of the Democrat Literature Bureau. "There is a most gratifying fact. It indicates that should the Democratic party, after mature deliberation, deny to the Admiral the nominal nomination, he seeks, it may nevertheless count on his hearty co-operation and his influence in behalf of its efforts to end the evils of McKinleyism by ending the reign of Emperor William I."

In commenting on the purpose of his article, Mr. Abbott said:

"We are naturally delighted at the prospect of our ranks as Admiral Dewey, but of course we expect the Admiral to 'play fair' and accept the good old Democratic doctrine and abide by the result of an honest Democratic convention."

POLITICAL POT BOILING

THE FIGHT IN ALAMEDA COUNTY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—Now that the preliminaries are well under way, the question of who will carry off the prizes at the approaching State Convention is naturally a subject of considerable interest. It is attracting considerable attention. Fights are in progress in a more or less open fashion all over the State, the two principal struggles that have been developed up to date being in Alameda county, where George Reed is pitted against Dr. Farde, and down South, where Otis and Grant are to measure swords.

The Alameda county engagement can, however, be well classified as the star performance of all, owing to the Congressional and gubernatorial issues involved therein, and although it has yet to open its side of the battle, the opinion of those who congregate in the Palace Hotel lobby, the Grand Hotel bar and other such centers of political gossip is that the delegation is about evenly divided. Those who stray into town occasionally from other counties in the Congressional district than Alameda say that the strife has extended to their sections in a very pronounced manner, both Dalton and Metcalf workers being hard at it all along the line.

The contest in the southern end of the State is peculiar in its nature. General H. G. Otis of the Los Angeles "Times" wants the honor of going to the National convention as delegate-at-large so that he may personally reciprocate for some of the honors extended to him by the President, but, unfortunately, though a staunch Republican, the General has a large number of enemies in the ranks of his own party, and they are glad of an opportunity such as this to show their show their teeth. In the main the antagonisms have been incurred by his standing up for principle, regardless of whose toes were trodden on, for the General is a martinet in all matters where political honor is concerned, and would as soon make a foe as a friend rather than desert what he considered the right side.

The movement in behalf of Grant, who is contesting the situation with Otis, is, of course, a sequence of his Senatorial candidacy. Grant is popular in San Diego county, both on account of the liberal investments he has made there and because he is personally liked, and in addition to this, his friends are anxious to see him get some sort of vindication of the scandal that crept into his fight at Sacramento, they are determined to send him to the National Convention as delegate. Furthermore, it is whispered that he has the Vice-Presidential seal in his pocket, having received assurances from friends in the East that there is a possibility that his name might go on the National ticket, so as to offset with the war reputation of his father any great burst of patriotism that might be obtained by the Democratic cause through its securing Dewey or Miles as candidates for second place.

As regards the other two delegates-at-large, it would not be surprising if they went to Editors Spreckels and De Young. There is no doubt that each of the individuals in question will like to be treated in that way, and, as there is a desire on the part of the party leaders to continue the present love feast between the two proprietors as long as possible, it may be deemed a stroke of good policy to so portion out the honors. Other names are heard occasionally, but those already discussed seem to have the inside of the running by a safe margin, and it is safe to say that the four delegates-at-large will come from the sextet—Pardee, Reed, Otis, Grant, Spreckels and De Young.

Rumors are heard occasionally though that there may be surprising changes in some quarters, for the candidates in question are practically all representatives of the reform movement that has been instituted in Republican politics, and the elements they are seeking to oust may deem it necessary to shut out the enemy in every way, shape and form. It may sound strange to some people to hear of certain of the candidates mentioned being on the side of reform, but a shrewd game is being played just now, with the object of capturing both the Senatorial and gubernatorial situations two years hence. It would surprise some people if they knew the amount of wire-pulling that is going on sub rosa, and it is with this knowledge at hand that the comment is made that the plans for delegates-at-large as at present formulated may be subjected to cyclonic disturbances.

The question of who will be chairman of the State Convention is also under discussion, and, sizing up the situation as it appears now, it looks as if the place may go to Colonel Ed Forbes of Marysville. Senator Tom Flint's name has been favorably mentioned, but the honor of winning the chairmanship is a thing that some of his friends have argued with him that as he has so much at stake later on, he cannot afford to get in a fight now over the mere chairmanship of the convention, and run the chance of creating antagonisms that might be baneful in the future.

MEANTIME, while the Republicans are thus engaged in splitting hairs with one another over the various plums, the Democrats are preparing for their turn at the wheel. It might be thought that in view of all this talk about it being a walkover year for the Republicans, the opposition would not be able to stir up very much enthusiasm as regards the contests between themselves for apparently empty honors, but, strange to say, exactly the contrary is the case. Judging by the way things are beginning to line up, the competition will be very keen for almost everything in sight, especially so at this time for the first honors on the lists—the selection of delegates.

It is practically conceded that if Marion De Vries wants to be delegate-at-large, he can have it for the asking. The "Examiner," for some occult reason, is fighting him, but even so, the prestige he has obtained in Congress is sufficient to secure him the necessary recognition. The indications are that he will accept, for he is a personal friend of Bryan, and if the nomination is to go that way would like to be on hand to play a part in making the selection.

Furthermore, there is little or no danger in his leaving his district in the Congressional fight is in the balance, for it looks as if he has got a veritable walkover there. The consolidation of the Republican clubs effected in the district will be a prominent factor in the campaign, but even so, it is almost impossible to Metcalf Leads in Fight for Congress.

Either Phelan or Metcalf can get one of the places, but they cannot both go.

Ex-Senator Steve White can also go as delegate-at-large if he desires it. For a long time it looked as if the condition of his health would preclude his playing an active part in politics for many years to come, if at all, but of late he has rounded to in such excellent shape that from now on he can be counted on with the active members of the party.

Phelan and Metcalf are determined not to let him make another inch headway if they can help it. The anti-Phelanites have been heavily reinforced, too, since the new charter went into effect, and the Mayor may get a sad surprise next time he bumps up against any proposition that is to be determined by votes.

Reed Clark of Los Angeles is also a candidate for delegate-at-large, and as he is practically a stranger in this part of the State, a little introduction is necessary. He is a brother of Senator Clark of Montana, and when that much is stated probably enough his name has been said, unless it be to add that he also can count his wealth by the six figures.

No names have yet been advanced among the Democrats for the chairmanship of their State Convention, but it is understood that Dr. R. W. Hill of Los Angeles is candidate for chairman of the State Central Committee. The doctor is at present chairman of the Los Angeles County Committee.

MILES AND THE PRESIDENCY.

Before dismissing matters connected with National politics it may be mentioned that the announcement back East of the candidacy of General Miles for the Presidency, though it created somewhat of a surprise there, was old news to those who resided in the southern part of this State twelve years or so ago. Nobody knew that the General entertained ambitions in that direction until the occasion of the arrival of the orders transferring him from the command of the Department of Arizona, the headquarters of which being in Los Angeles, had conse-

Stomach Troubles In Spring

Are THAT BILIOUS FEELING, bad taste in the mouth, dull headache, sleeplessness, poor appetite.

No matter how careful you are about eating, everything you take into your stomach turns sour, causes distress, pains and unpleasant gases. In this condition it is only a question of time when you will have a well developed case of dyspepsia, or possibly bilious fever.

Don't you understand what these symptoms—these signals of distress—mean?

They are the cries of the stomach for help! It is being overworked. It needs the peculiar tonic qualities and digestive strength to be found only in Hood's Sarsaparilla. We have combined in this medicine the best stomach remedies known to the medical profession, and thousands of grateful letters telling its cures prove it to be the greatest medicine for all stomach troubles ever yet discovered. Try it this Spring.

Mrs. Shelly, who writes the following letter, is the wife of Rev. D. H. Shelly, for forty years in the ministry of the United Brethren. By her kindly nature and gentle disposition she has won hundreds of friends, who rejoice in her restoration to health:

"I suffered for years with sour stomach, sometimes called water brash. I could not drink either cold or warm water because it would sour on my stomach. I was bloated and weighed over 200 pounds. My blood did not circulate properly, and if others around me were warm I seemed to be freezing. I had numbness in my right side and arms. The physician advised a thorough course of treatment with a blood medicine in the spring, as at that time my body was covered with scales caused by an affliction of dry eczema. Having commenced treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla I continued taking the second bottle, after which I could sleep well. My digestion began to improve and I fell away in weight. I have little or no trouble from eczema now and my weight is 180 pounds, about normal. My food digests properly and I am not troubled with numbness. I am also able to drink cold water, a privilege which people do not fully appreciate until they are deprived of it. I think a great deal of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it certainly has effected very remarkable results." Mrs. D. H. SHELLEY, 386 Yeoman Street, Ionia, Mich.

Every druggist sells Hood's Sarsaparilla. But be sure you get Hood's, and not a substitute. Hood's is Peculiar to Itself.

GOOD JOKE ON GENERAL MILES.

He was only waiting a good opportunity to become a candidate—on a occasion that he now appears to be of the opinion, has arrived, judging by the announcement in the press dispatches this week that he is a contestant for the honor of succeeding McKinley.

A POETIC EPISODE.

By the way, the banquet in question gave birth to an interesting incident. The inside history of which has never been printed until this day. Among those seated at the festive board was a queer genius named L. Montgomery Mather, noted alike for his love of the good things in life, his fierce black mustachios and his wooling of the Muse. Mather had drifted into town from Hawaii, where, according to his own story, he had been poet laureate for King Kalakaua, and had been a household word in the island realm. From the day of his arrival in Los Angeles he was always composing odes to some thing or other, and, in fact, never left an opportunity pass by to string a few verses together.

While the Miles banquet was in progress it did not, therefore, create any surprise when Mather was seen to reverse one of the menu cards, produce a pencil from his pocket and, after rolling his eyes a few moments in a fine frenzy, commence to write. He would inscribe a few words, lay down his pencil and show the whites of his eyes as he delved into his brain for inspiration and then resume his labors—this performance being continued uninterruptedly for about fifteen minutes. At last he put his pencil back in his pocket with a sigh of relief, glanced over what he had scribbled, passed it to his right-hand neighbor, and leaned back in his chair to receive the homage due to genius.

The verses were fairly good, and the guest to whom they had been entrusted seized a favorable moment to announce that Mr. Mather had just composed a few lines on the departure of General Miles, and that they were well worth listening to. There were immediate cries for the poet, who bashfully arose and asked that he be excused, for the reason that the verses had simply been dashed off on the spur of the moment, and that it was, therefore, scarcely fair to submit them to a critical audience. The banqueters insisted upon hearing them, and, as the General joined in the request, Mather reluctantly arose and delivered himself of his production. It was a very happy little poem, and, after the applause with which it was greeted had subsided, General Miles requested that he be favored with the original, scribbled as it had been on the back of the dinner card, remarking that he would always treasure it as a memento of the workings of genius. Mather bowed and handed the card to the General, who, for all known to the contrary, treasures it to this day.

There was a sequel, though. Before the night was over Mather looked far too often upon the card that he had handed to the General, and when the toast came on, and the orators had the floor, one of the speakers in lauding the General's merits suggested that the day might come when he would be installed in the White House as the Nation's President. This idea and the occasion made a happy combination, for the speaker's suggestion was greeted with hearty shouts of approval, amidst which those who were watching the General saw with the flush on his face that the sentiment was but echoing his own desires. From that time on, therefore, it was well understood that Miles was only awaiting a good opportunity to become a candidate—on a occasion that he now appears to be of the opinion, has arrived, judging by the announcement in the press dispatches this week that he is a contestant for the honor of succeeding McKinley.

THE APPELLATE COURTS.

An error of calculation crept into this correspondence a couple of weeks ago, when, referring to the judicial patronage that would be in the hands of the Governor should the constitution amendment creating Appellate Courts carry. It was stated that he would have the appointment of six judges at $5,000 a year each, whereas it should have been nine judges, there being three District Courts of Appeal proposed, each to consist of three judges.

By the way, it is rumored that Van R. Patterson may be a candidate to succeed Beatty as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. This will not seem reasonable to most people, in view of the fact that Patterson voluntarily resigned from the Supreme bench three or four years ago to engage in private practice, but in this connection it must be remembered that Chief Justice is a much greater honor than the one he laid aside. Van R. Patterson was the moving spirit in getting the Legislature to pass the amendment for the Appellate Courts, and though he, of course, is not seeking preference in that regard, it looks as if he is not out of the public arena altogether.

HERE AND THERE.

Assemblyman McDonald is down from Tuolumne. The Democrats are talking of nominating J. P. Andrews of Tehama for the Assembly. He will be remembered as the minority candidate for Surveyor-General at the State election.

Senator Charles Shortridge made a flying trip from San Jose during the week. Assemblyman Jilson of Skidway is in town for a short vacation.

Judge Lige Hart of Sacramento is said to be a sure thing for district delegate to the National Convention.

Johnny Mackenzie came up from Santa Clara this week to see how matters pertaining to the Fifth Congressional District are getting along. Mackenzie is pretty busy just now, for in addition to the fight in the Fifth, he is preparing as Census Marshal for the big times in that regard that will be here in a couple of months.

Senator Tom Flint is up again from San Juan.

Nothing positive has yet been heard as regards Colonel Burns' intentions, but it is said he certainly will not come up for the first State Convention. It is more than likely that he will be on hand when the second one takes place.

Dr. Mathews, secretary of the State Board of Health, is down for a few days. Ex-City Attorney Dunn of Los Angeles is taking a look around here.

L. E. Mosher, manager of the Los Angeles "Times," is in town on a business trip.

Ex-Senator Voorhees is on hand, doing a little politics in connection with his part of the State. Sam Rainey is going to take a trip East in a month or so. Assemblyman Delshaw is over from Contra Costa, making plans for his fight to succeed Senator Dickinson. He has got a hard proposition ahead, but he thinks he can make it all right. Jim Oliver is making a quiet fight to succeed Howard Wright as Assemblyman in the Fourth District. C. E. Thomas, a Berkeley man, is also among those hustling for the place.

A SIDE LINE.

Good Work by a Traveling Man.

A traveling man, Mr. Julius C. Meyer of 15 Fairview St., Cleveland, has cured a number of his friends of stomach troubles, dyspepsia, bowel complaints, etc., by using the use of Grape-Nuts breakfast food. He says: "A business man, a friend of mine, was so run down that he left his business several months because he could not eat enough to supply the strength required to work. After spending hundreds of dollars in journeys to mineral springs for baths, in medicines, attendants, etc., without success, I recommended Grape-Nuts food, and at the end of thirty days he told me he never enjoyed a better appetite, was never more energetic or felt more like work than then. This change came about entirely by reason of his leaving off the ordinary food and using principally Grape-Nuts at his meals. He said he would not be without the food at a dollar a pound."

"A lady friend of my wife was suffering so with dyspepsia that she was compelled to give up her work, as no food would stay on her stomach for five minutes. The doctors told her there was no hope for her ever enjoying food of any kind. She started on Grape-Nuts and used nothing else for about three months, when she was completely cured and ready to attend to her business. She takes Grape-Nuts with her every day. She said to my wife: 'Had it not been for you and Grape-Nuts, I surely would have died. I shall never forget your kindness to me.'"

"In my own family we have used the food for about a year, constantly, and have all enjoyed better health since its introduction. It has done me and my family so much good that we have expected to get from a food."

There is a deep, underlying reason why Grape-Nuts food cures people of dyspepsia, and builds them up into a fine condition of health and strength. Certain principles are abstracted from the grains and made up into the food known as Grape-Nuts. It is a powerful, concentrated food that gives certain well-defined results. The proof is in the eating. There are hundreds of thousands of people that can give testimony regarding the strengthening properties of this Grape-Nuts food.

Dr. Rickards has also adopted the Harmonic Vibrator, with which he accelerates the circulation, bringing rapid quickening to the body.

The Vibrator is highly recommended by physicians of all schools, as it quickens the vital forces of body and brain.

It is especially good for the face and scalp, giving new life and freshness to the skin, removing wrinkles, blotches, wrinkles, blackheads, etc.; in fact, it is a method of facial and scalp treatment that has no equal.

Dr. Rickards claims that the Vibrator would be of no permanent use to him without the magnetic force conveyed by his hand. He also claims that all known diseases are amenable to magnetic force.

Patients at a distance who are unable to visit the Healer should write for particulars. Correspondence solicited; or send for circulars containing many testimonials of persons cured in Oakland, California free. Address DR. RICKARDS, 351 Clay street.

BELGIAN HARE

NEWS NOTES.

People All Over the State Interested in the Subject.

According to the Visalia "Times," the project of establishing a Belgian hare factory in that city has been supported in the popular mind the oil boom and all other quasi-public industrial enterprises. "The proposition," says the "Times," "is to secure a quantity of land on which alfalfa is growing and fit it up as a breeding ground for Belgian hares, starting in with 400 to 500 hares. The fecundity of the Belgian hare is well known, and, starting with 500 does, the increase would not be less than 1,400 every sixty days, or 24,000 hares per annum. This number of hares would go a long way toward supplying the San Francisco market, and no doubt leave a surplus to keep up the young stock. By the end of the first year of the industry it is proposed to erect a large factory for operation, at which Belgian hares will be canned for the Eastern markets. The gentlemen back of this enterprise have figured out a bonanza in the business, and the chances are that stock in the new corporation will be placed on the market at an early day.

The country around Visalia is admirably adapted to rabbit breeding. Indeed, the farmers down there are constantly engaged in warfare with the jackass rabbit, the ground squirrel and other crop-threatening rodents. The Belgian ears are bred for their meat, which is palatable for sheep, but in raising them for market a systematic dietary is usually followed. This consists of moistened beans in the morning, a small piece of corn or wheat enip at noon, and oats, with alfalfa or clover hay, at night. The animals are never given more than they can eat at once, and a strict feeding is never tried. Fresh, cool water is always kept before them.

Belgium is also badly Belgium-struck. Some of the best rabbits in the State have been established there. E. H. Winslow is providing better hutches for his stock, and is building up the Bimbank rabbitry is to be paved with bitumen and will contain 150 hutches. The present breeding stock consists of seven hutchers. Among the best Belgian hares owned by Mr. King is the doe Queen Margaret, which scores 98 points, being about as near perfection as a hare gets to be. Palace Queen of the Meadowbrook rabbitry, Los Angeles, is the only doe that scores nearly points under the English judging system, being credited with 96½ by the judges. Another of the Bimbank rabbitry's prize hares is Lady Hamilton, which took six prizes in England last year.

Alameda county, too, is forging ahead as a producer of Belgians. G. W. Merwin, owner of the Star rabbitry, at Oakland, has on display some fine specimens of the breed, and has been much of late at the Oakland fair, where he has been exhibiting his hares. J. C. Glean of Oakland has fitted up a rabbitry in Hamilton Hall. The best Oakland rabbitry has made rapid progress in the past few years, and is now one of the most complete rabbit farms in the north. F. J. Agnew of the Boss rabbitry expects to send some of his best stock to the fair at the Frank Atterbury has opened up a rabbitry at 1247 Broadway, Oakland. The Central California Belgian Hare Club, with headquarters in Oakland, has almost a hundred members.

The fact that Colonel Edley Moore has the matter in hand is sufficient guarantee that under his management the Tanforan's first outing will be a success in every way.

Peculiar Disappearance.

Miss Lucille Sharkweather of Goat Island caused her aunt, Mrs. Judah Linkey, considerable anxiety for awhile recently, when she disappeared. While out shopping the former suddenly disappeared and it was several hours before Mrs. Linkey had her mind relieved. With the assistance of the police, Miss Sharkweather was found in E. R. Tutt's store at 511 and 513 Thirteenth street, near Washington, purchasing some handkerchiefs. She had just arrived from the East. Mr. Tutt claims it the best voice he has received in that line, and in addition of his stock will convince you of that fact. Prices always right.

building; in Washington she has her splendid residence; in Havana a ranch of a million acres; in Chihuahua, and he proposes to build another great one.

The interest which Mrs. Hewitt has in the State University has not been from allegiance to kindred blood, for of which she has no guardian angel behind the mothers' clubs. It is she who went to the building used for student purposes in San Francisco to build the settlement at the corner of some of the streets. Many musicians and promoters owe their years of prosperity to her. Such is the woman the patron of education in the west, whom we must respect with stamp on generations of Californians, for no instrument can play and no brain can compute the which the institution she has established to have on the citizenry.

THE LITERARY

Budget of Readable Fiction and the Magazine Output.

"The Reward of Prince Cheerfulness," by Ruth Lewinson, is an allegorical tale, as the author says, "to portray by personification, traits of character such as cheerfulness, temper, patience, etc., their cause and their effect on each other. Cheerfulness sheds forth its gentle rays, is brave and courageous, while Temper, at first uncontrolled, will at last be conquered by the bright beams of cheerfulness, and yield to its influence." The story deals with the efforts of the dragon Temper to win the hand in marriage of the dragon's daughter, Virtue, who is appealed by the hideous aspect of Temper, as he bursts into the palace, which is located in the Heart Kingdom. The monster is attacked by the gaze of Virtue's mother, Gentleness, and precipitately retreats after demanding of King Patience his daughter's hand. Like all dragons, however, Temper is a persistent monster, and in an unguarded moment he surprises Virtue and carries her off to his gloomy castle. Here she is eventually found by Prince Cheerfulness, who has disguised himself and entered Temper's service as a servant. He at last delivers Virtue from the dragon's clutches and restores her to her father. The book is published by William R. Jenkins, Sixty Sixth and New York, and is a handsome specimen of book-making.

A BOOK ON SOCIALISM.

"Socialism, Utopian and Scientific," by Frederic Engels (translated by Edward Aveling), is a tiny volume that contains some incisive and interesting writing, however much the reader may disagree with the author's theories. Engels traces the history of modern socialism, which, he says, is a logical extension of the principles of the French Revolution of the eighteenth century. The author gives a resume of the breaking up of the feudal system into the systems of modern capitalism and socialism, both in England and in Germany. This part of the book is of much interest to the student of economics, as it is a clear and concise description of the present event, or, rather, succession of events in the world's history. The book is published by Charles H. Kerr & Co., 56 Fifth Avenue, and is a neat and handy little volume.

"THREE MEALS A DAY."

Of making cook books there is no end. But the majority of them are of very little use to the average housekeeper, who must practice economy in furnishing her table, as they seem mostly to be a padding of recipes, and a list of ingredients of a single one of which costs more than the housewives can afford to expend for a meal.

"Three Meals a Day," while it does not overlook the rich dishes that the wealthy indulge in, is written for the majority of housekeepers who want their food to be palatable and wholesome, but cannot afford to indulge in extravagance. The author is a housewife, and her own experience is an authority on the culinary art, and her volume is the latest work in the series of "Three Meals a Day," which is a veritable encyclopedia of information concerning the proper management of the kitchen, the selection of food, table etiquette, marketing, etc. The book is by J. S. Ziegler & Co., 325 North Broadway, and is a large and handsome volume.

NEW BOOKS.

The Bowen-Merrill Company of Indianapolis has the reputation of publishing few books and making many successes. A number of their books are now in the "few books and many of them." They announce to be ready in April: "The Redemption of the Slave," by Frederick Douglass, a book of humor in rhyme, by Robert J. Burdette, with many illustrations by Charles H. Kerr, "The Sea," a tale of adventure, by Charles H. Kerr, "The Tragedy of Hamlet," the first volume of an entirely new edition of Shakespeare, edited by Edward Dowden.

"TABLE TALK."

The April issue of "Table Talk" has for its leading article "A Pigot of Herbs," which is written by the author of "The Chapter for Tea Drinkers." It is an article containing much information on this subject. "The Chapter for Tea Drinkers" is an article that will appeal to all who wish to entertain their friends at that time. It gives a list of the ingredients of a good white and yellow, and menu for the Easter dinner, colors white and green, with full description how to prepare it. The article is "Easter Day," telling the reader of the customs of the Easter, and shapes in china ware and cut glass. It is full of up-to-date information. The "Housekeeping" department, which is usual, is filled with information subscribers ask for. "Table Talk" publishes menus for each meal in the month, and then gives full and practical information how to carry them out. Many other practical articles are included. The paper will furnish the best possible summary of the century in mission work. (33 a year. The Outlook Company, New York.)

"EDUCATIONAL QUESTIONS."

"Educational Questions" is the subject of a collection of essays by W. D. Howells, published for the author by the Whittaker & Ray Company of San Francisco. This book has been inspired, according to the author's statement, by the belief that, during the next few years, the public school system of California is destined to pass through a period of change and transition. The author discusses some of the features of the remedy. Many of the essays are of a practical character, and some of them are based on actual experience and some of them are not. The book is gotten up in an attractive and readable form, and is well illustrated. It is a book that will be read by all who are interested in the future of the public school system of California.

"LITERARY DIGEST."

"The Literary Digest" in this week's issue contains the opinions of the leading dailies, from Boston to Honolulu, on the Puerto Rican tariff question. The opinions of thirty-seven Republicans, twenty-five Democrats, and two Hawaiian papers are given, covering New England, the Atlantic cities, the South and the Pacific Coast. The thirty-seven Republican papers quoted twenty-five favor free trade with Puerto Rico and two favor a tariff. The two Hawaiian papers are quoted in favor of Congress with considerable anxiety, fearing that the next step may be one of annexation. The "Literary Digest" is a magazine that will be read by all who are interested in the future of the public school system of California.
